Overview

Chapter 2 provides detailed information about the importance of the Servicemembers Opportunity Colleges (SOC) Degree Network System (DNS) Student Agreement and the policies and requirements governing its use. Please refer to the Student Agreement Instructions for a pictorial representation of how to complete a SOC DNS Student Agreement.

While addressed primarily to colleges and college counselors or advisers, this chapter contains information that will help military education center personnel and servicemembers understand the importance of the Student Agreement and how it can be used to help servicemembers attain their education goals.

The Importance of the SOC Degree Network System Student Agreement

Student Agreements should be issued to active duty servicemembers (not veterans.) National Guard members and Reserve components called to active duty should also be issued Student Agreements by home colleges.

The Student Agreement provides the military student with:

- a clearly defined degree plan in a standard format;
- an official evaluation of all previously completed credit applicable to the degree, including transfer credit from other colleges and universities, non-traditional forms of credit from military training courses, military occupational experience, and nationally recognized testing programs;
- protection against changing college degree requirements or policies while the Student Agreement is in effect; and
- identification of guaranteed-transfer credit for specific courses from Degree Network System member institutions with assigned SOC DNS Course Category Codes for these courses.

SOC reports data from the Student Agreements member institutions prepare for eligible students. The types of data reported include:

- the amount and type of applicable credit for military and non-traditional credit awarded by member institutions, including military training, military occupational experience, and nationally recognized testing programs;
- the number of servicemembers receiving Student Agreements and their participation by academic areas; and,

- the distribution of participating servicemembers by branch of service, pay grade, and military installation.

This data serves many purposes, including demonstrating the viability of SOC DNS member institutions and their support of Servicemembers, and the cost-savings achieved by the documented award of non-traditional college credit.

Student Agreements Requirements

A student's home college is required to issue a Student Agreement. It is an official evaluation of a student's prior education and experience as it applies to his or her degree program.

The Student Agreement should be issued by the time the student has completed six semester hours, or two courses, at the home college. SOC recommends that colleges establish a systematic process for early identification of degree-seeking military students to ensure that they receive Student Agreements as appropriate. It is not necessary for a college to issue a Student Agreement to a student taking courses to apply to another school's degree program.

Student Agreements for two-year programs (DNS-2) may be issued only by institutions who are members of the DNS-2, and Student Agreements for four-year programs (DNS-4) may only be issued by DNS-4 members. Member institutions are also encouraged to issue Open Network Student Agreements for servicemembers pursuing degree programs not included in the DNS. See "Issuing Open Network Student Agreements," below, for more information. Student Agreements must be signed by a college official.

It is highly recommended that each SOC DNS institution use the SOC-provided Excel template to develop a master template for each of its SOC DNS degrees. These can be easily customized as desired but must conform to the data requirements of the SOC-provided template.

Distributing Copies of the Student Agreement

The home college retains the official copy of the Student Agreement for tracking and recording the student's progress toward degree completion. Copies of the Student Agreement are to be distributed to:

- the student, signed by the authorized home college official;
- the Service, for the student's education file; and,
- SOC, for use in quarterly status reports to the Services. Ideally, Student Agreements will be submitted to SOC via email using secure zip files.

Changes to the Student Agreement

Student Agreements may be altered for a limited number of reasons that are generally beyond the control of the institution. These include changes that are required by accreditation bodies, mandated by state higher education authority; and state licensure or certification requirements.

Usually these types of modifications should only affect courses not yet taken by the student. Documentation of these changes may be required upon request from SOC and the military education center. They do not invalidate the Student Agreement nor reset the time to degree completion outlined in Chapter 3 of the SOC Degree Network System Handbooks.

Each service member holding an official Student Agreement for the affected degree should receive:

- proper advisement regarding the relative merits of the changes;
- clear and timely official communication (preferably written or electronic) from the institution in advance of the proposed program change regarding the anticipated impact of the changes on enrolled students (including applicable periods of grandfathering, potential employment impact on state licensing or state certification within the career industry, etc.);
- advisement regarding student options to remain in their current degree plan or pursue the new degree plan, any potential course substitutions, additional courses, etc. and the relative merits of each option; and
- documentation of degree plan changes for submission to military education staff, if the student voluntarily agrees to a degree plan including updated requirements.
- students with questions should contact the home college regarding the degree or SOC if there are specific questions about the Student Agreement.

Issuing Open Network Student Agreements

SOC DNS member institutions may find that their military students pursue degrees that are not part of the DNS.

Although not required to do so, colleges are encouraged to create a Student Agreement for these students. In such cases, the Student Agreement is completed in the regular way, except that “Open Network” is entered instead of the assigned Network. When completing these “Open Network” Student Agreements, a college should enter SOC DNS Course Category Codes for any of its courses that are listed in the Transferability Tables. Completing Open Network Student Agreements provides SOC with valuable information, including level and types of degree interest, and data regarding non-traditional credit award.
